The Opportunity

UCITS funds manage trillions in European assets, yet operational intelligence is often fragmented, manual and reactive. Small leaks in TER, custody and administration compound into material cost drag. HEDJIT turns fund operational data into a secure, living profile—HEDJIT DNA™—and uses an AI overlay to surface actionable insights and benchmark against anonymised peers.

How the Pilot Works

Eligible UCITS fund managers complete a short secure form and upload documents. HEDJIT returns a complimentary Operational Intelligence Review within five business days. Early pilot funds shape the platform and receive ongoing insights as HEDJIT DNA™ evolves.

Why Invest Now

Regulatory pressure, fee compression and margin erosion are forcing UCITS managers to do more with less. HEDJIT sits at the intersection of generative AI, operational data and European fund regulation—an intelligence layer that becomes more valuable as more funds join. The preseed round funds product development, engineering and the first 50 pilot funds.
